

iPhone App for training the ability to respond

Up to 4 players can participate in the game.

You can choose a color from 4 different boxes. After choosing, the four initialized colours will show in fast changing sequential order. The display range will slow down gradually; the reachable scores will go down correspondently. When tipping on one of the quickly showing fields, the display will be frozen if the chosen picture or colour was hit. The achieved score will be added to the player.

The player can be chosen by tipping on the field in the lower part of the screen. A photo of the players can be taken by the the mobile's camera and saved for each player. This function can be activated by double tipping on the field on the lower screen.

The settings of the game can be found in the menu when tipping on the icon in the upper right of the toolbar.
